

An Encomium to Life (Poem)

Dr. Unnati Datar

Lecturer/In Charge of English Language Laboratory

RSMDAC College, Nagpur.

My path unwinds amidst long untiring lanes
Revealing exuberance at the passing of each day
Gathering memories ensconced with rhythmic vicissitude.

May I then pause and rewind,

To perceive and recognize

What, where, when of the rhetoric chants that seems derogatory

Unfurling answers to the meaning of life!

May I then pause and ponder,

To mend and restore

Relationships amidst interstitial wresting clamor that seems nugatory

The quest of life will seem desiderate till the last breath.

May I then seize and gather,
To preserve and matter
Love, laurels, applause and memoirs
For an alpenglow, my thanksgiving on my passing day!

22 February 2016, Nagpur.
